To whom it may concern

Certified that, the Kakojan College, P.O. Kakojan, District Jorhat, Assam, has efficiently maintained the college campus in environment friendly way, with its available resources. The Principal and the College Management Authority, the faculty members and Staff, and the Students of the College deserve appreciation for that. Visiting the college premises as External Member of Green Audit Assessment Committee, I would like to express my great satisfaction. I am sure that the ideas and efforts for sustaining such an eco-friendly environment in this esteemed institution will be further strengthened in coming years.

I wish all success of this college.
